

Are you a parent in early recovery?

Our Parenting in Recovery program teaches effective and practical parenting tools to help you and your family recover together. You'll learn how to improve your family's communication, how to help your children understand addiction in an age-appropriate way, and how to boost protective factors in both your own and your children's lives.

2018 dates: April 21-22 and September 15-16

Open to all regardless of Renascent affiliation. This free program includes meals and intensive programming including group and individual counselling with our team of addiction experts, and a continuing support group.
