About Renascent:

Renascent is an accredited leader in the addiction treatment field, with a legacy of serving people impacted by substance addiction for nearly 50 years. As a charitable health care organization, Renascent is committed to the values of compassion, respect, and empathy, as well as evidence-based approaches and continuous improvement. Renascent addiction treatment programs provide person-centered care within an abstinence-based model, integrating 12 step facilitation with current best practice clinical approaches.

Due to the impact of addiction on families, specialized programs and support are also offered for family members, including children. In addition to providing treatment, Renascent actively engages communities through the Renascent Foundation to raise awareness, funds and resources for the treatment and prevention of addiction.

Renascent's Boards:

The amazing work of Renascent is accomplished through two organizations, Renascent Fellowship and Renascent Foundation. These charitable organizations are incorporated separately but work in a very integrated manner. Each organization has its own Board of Directors that meet together at Joint Board Meetings to enable coordinated and cohesive planning, goal-setting and visioning.

Renascent's management team also operates in an integrated way with one CEO for both organizations and an integrated senior leadership team.

Renascent Fellowship primarily conducts the work of treatment and service delivery for addiction. Renascent Foundation works to mobilize community support and fund-raise for Renascent Fellowship. Renascent Foundation owns and leases properties to Renascent Fellowship for its use, and conducts business development for the organization.

The Boards meet quarterly jointly, to share information and experience. The Annual General meeting is held each September. Board meetings typically last about three hours. Occasionally, special meetings are held to discuss specific urgent and/or lengthy items. The Boards tend to meet at least once a year for a workshop or “retreat” day regarding topical strategic matters.
